The Las Fresas complex includes 11 blocks of two-storey bungalows, arranged in four rows on the eastern hillside, so that all the bungalows enjoy sea views, with the swimming pool and sun terrace area situated in the bottom-most row, offering fantastic views across the entire Puerto Rico ravine.~~The complex faces west, so the sun shines from midday until it sets over the sea in winter and behind the mountains in summer. This orientation means you can enjoy spectacular sunsets from your terrace, as the sky is bathed in various shades of red, orange and pink.~~The complex's communal areas are currently being refurbished. It also has communal parking and a small supermarket.
