Perched high on the western slope of the Puerto Rico residential estate and just 800 metres from the beach lies the Tindaya complex, comprising 96 flats. There is a second access point via Avenida de Mogán, which shortens the distance to the beach to around 450 metres.~~The complex?s communal areas are in excellent condition, including the sun terrace and swimming pools, the gardens and all access points. The views from the sun terrace are stunning, and there are two swimming pools; the adult pool is heated in winter. The atmosphere is peaceful and the complex is set away from noisy areas.~~The south-east facing orientation of the entire complex allows you to enjoy the morning sun in summer and sunshine throughout the day in winter.
